

Deltek Costpoint® Consulting

We deliver objectives

Deltek introduced Costpoint® in the mid-1990's as the only fully integrated, client/server enterprise solution developed specifically for project-oriented businesses. Deltek Costpoint® market share consists of government contractors, both large and small.

As a result of Beason & Nalley's extensive experience in the government contracting industry, we have been selected by Deltek to serve as a Deltek Alliance Partner. Costpoint's capabilities teamed with Beason & Nalley's experience and availability is a winning combination for our clients.

Our Costpoint® consultants were Costpoint® users first, combining software expertise and government contracting industry experience to serve you. As one of our clients wrote, "staff members brought real world experience not only as previous system implementers but also as users who have had to live with the systems they implemented. Because of their level of Costpoint® experience and their status as independent consultants, we came to trust their unbiased recommendations."

Every government contractor has a unique implementation of Costpoint®. This is why we designed a list of products from which we can customize a solution for your particular needs:
